Re: AES Academic Accommodations

The University of Portland recognizes the above-named student as a student with a disability under the Americans with Disabilities Act and/or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. The accommodations listed below will be made by the University in order to provide the student with equal access to its programs and activities. This letter reflects the accommodations listed in the student's Accommodation Plan, which is on file with the Dean's Designee from the Student's school or college.

The University will make the following accommodations for the student above:

Exam Accommodation

Extended Time on Exams (1.5x); refer to AES Moodle for more information;
Alternative setting for exams (e.g. reduced auditory/visual environmental stimuli, minimal interruptions, small group setting; setting such as hallways, lounges and spaces in use by public/community are not appropriate); Faculty: see AES Moodle (in PilotsUP) and/or contact AES staff for assistance;
Use of a computer (word processor) for exams
Use of University text-to-speech (TTS) software on exams
Use of speech-to-text software on exams

Other Academic Accommodation

Use of technology to support notetaking, including audio recording, notetaking applications such as MS OneNote, and the ability to digitally capture information presented during class on a whiteboard or chalkboard.

Student is approved to record class lectures as a disability-related accommodation.
To support this accommodation, instructors should be aware that:

- Students must complete the AES Recording Agreement Form
- Recording agreement covers privacy expectations and appropriate use.
- Recordings are for the student's personal academic use only and may not be shared.
- Faculty may request to see the student's certificate of completed agreement.
- No in-class announcement about recording is required

Use of computer for in-class writing

In keeping with the central tenets of its mission – teaching, faith and service -- it is the policy of the University to ensure that students with disabilities have equal opportunity for participation in the University's academic programs and activities, in accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The student accepts the responsibility of cooperating with you in making arrangements for the following accommodations and of communicating, in an ongoing manner, as to their effectiveness. Your Dean's Designee is available for consultation as well as the Accessible Education Services (AES). If you have any questions about accommodations in your course, please do not hesitate to contact AES staff at x.8985

Please be aware this information is confidential and should be handled accordingly. Thank you for your support.
